3. AUSTRALIAN LEGAL SYSTEM

The underlying feature of the Australian Legal System states that: a defendant is ‘innocent until proven guilty in a court of law’ by the Prosecution.

Instructions: Read the following case study and then answer the following questions.

Case Study

On your bike Queensland introduced new laws in 2013 to target the illegal activities of gangs, including criminal bikie gangs. The laws are commonly referred to as ‘bikie laws’. A list of declared criminal organisations was prepared. New offences were created, including members of a criminal gang gathering in groups of three or more, visiting locations like clubhouses or a banned event, and recruiting for their organisations.

The laws have been criticised for going against the principle of the presumption of innocence.

Steven Smith, Scott Conley, Joshua Carew, Paul Lansdowne and Dan Whale were arrested and detained in custody in December 2013, following a meeting at the Yandina Hotel. They were alleged by police to have links to the Rebels motorcycle club.
Joshua’s wife, Tracy Carew, said her husband had been locked up for delivering a pizza to the other men. ‘These boys aren’t guilty of this crime, they haven’t been proven guilty. They haven’t been put in front of a jury and deemed guilty yet,’ she said. Mrs Carew told the media that the men were placed in solitary confinement awaiting their court hearings. Joshua Carew, and some of the other men, were released from custody under bail conditions in mid-January 2014.

(a) What is the process when arresting a person? (What happens?) Use the case study for examples.
